Hello,

We had an issue with the db early on and are working on restoring it. As long as your transactions appear on the blockchain, they are safe. The outage affected only a couple hundred people out of tens of thousands, but unfortunately you are one of them, I apologize for the inconvenience.

Could you send me your public key hash and we'll look into your contribution. Once again, rest assured that this is a display issue, the Ethereum blockchain is the authoritative record for your contribution.

Best,
Arthur
